What is Plinko and How Does It Work?

At its core, Plinko is a game of opportunity based upon probability and physics simulation. When a gamer starts a round, they drop a puck (or ball) from the top of a pyramid-shaped board filled with barriers-- generally pegs. As the disc falls, it bounces off these pegs in a randomized trajectory up until it lands in among the slots at the bottom.

Each slot represents a specific multiplier, which determines the payment for the round. The slots situated toward the center of the board usually use lower multipliers (or even lead to a loss), while the slots toward the outer edges normally use considerably greater benefits, reflecting the lower mathematical likelihood of the puck landing there.
