Roanoke homes are full of beautiful floors. Old Southwest and Raleigh Court houses often have original oak, newer builds in Salem and Roanoke County feature engineered wood and luxury vinyl, and kitchens and bathrooms everywhere show off tile. Every one of those surfaces looks great clean and dull when it is not. Mopping hard surface floors is part of every standard visit from The Happy Housekeepers, a Roanoke house cleaning company since Roanoke house cleaners 1979.

Hard floors take a beating in the Roanoke Valley. Spring pollen leaves a film, summer humidity makes sticky spots stickier, and winter brings salt, sand and red clay onto entryway floors. Left alone, grit acts like sandpaper underfoot and wears down finishes over time. Regular cleaning removes it before it causes damage.

Mopping is only part of the floor routine. Baseboards are dusted, which keeps the edges of the room clean where dust and pet hair gather. Cobwebs are removed from corners, and waste baskets are emptied so nothing spills onto freshly cleaned floors. In kitchens and bathrooms, mopping completes the complete kitchen and total bathroom clean-ups that come with every visit.

Families with kids and pets especially appreciate regular floor care. Juice spills, muddy paw prints and crumbs under the table are part of life, and a weekly or bi-weekly plan keeps them from piling up. Older homes with heavy foot traffic in hallways and on stairs also benefit from a steady schedule.

Floor care pairs naturally with other services. After a renovation or floor refinishing, the company's post-renovation experience helps clear away fine dust. Before listing a home for sale, clean, shining floors make rooms look larger in photos. Move-in and move-out cleanings give floors the attention they need when rooms are empty.

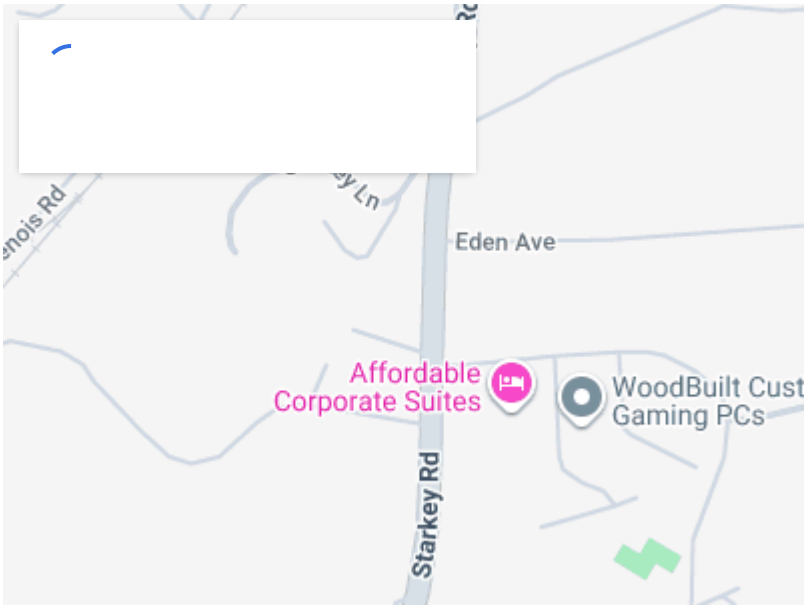

The Happy Housekeepers is licensed, bonded and insured, staff are house cleaning Roanoke bonded and insured by the company and the business displays a BBB blue seal. You do not need to be home during cleaning, and the office follows up after the first visit to make sure you are pleased.

Plans can be one-time, weekly, bi-weekly or monthly, and estimates are always free with no obligation, so you can find the right rhythm for your floors and your household.
