Houston Weather and 18 Wheeler Accident Lawyer Rain and Flooding Houston's sudden downpours can flood freeways and frontage roads in minutes, and hurricane season brings strong winds and heavy rain. Commercial drivers are required to slow down and adjust to conditions, and in severe weather they may need to stop driving altogether. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer handles crashes where weather played a role. Bad weather isn't an excuse for unsafe driving. A truck going too fast for the rain, following too closely on wet pavement or pushing through high water may still be the driver's responsibility. Weather data, traffic camera footage and the truck's own speed records can show whether the driver adjusted to the conditions. The firm uses that evidence to answer the common insurance argument that the crash was just an accident caused by the storm. Houston's flood-prone underpasses add another layer of risk. Some trucks try to push through water that would stall a car, creating waves that swamp nearby vehicles or losing traction themselves. Other drivers misjudge how quickly water rises in heavy storms. Carriers are expected to monitor weather alerts and adjust schedules during severe events like tropical storms and hurricanes. When a company sends trucks out into dangerous conditions to meet a delivery deadline, it may share responsibility for what happens on the road that day.

Texas Truck Accident Lawyer | 2100 W Loop S Ste 818, Houston, TX 77027 | (832) 250-4888

As a veteran-owned firm led by a former Green Beret, Texas Truck Accident Lawyer brings military discipline to its cases. Planning comes first, details matter and nobody gets left behind. Clients get a clear plan from the start and regular updates as the case moves forward, so you always know what the team is working on and what comes next. Texas consistently records more fatal crashes involving large trucks than any other state. Houston's mix of long-haul freight, port traffic and fast-growing suburbs puts a large share of those crashes in Harris County and the counties around it. Each one leaves families dealing with injuries, bills and questions they never expected to face. FAQ About 18 Wheeler Accident Lawyer Houston How long do I have to file an 18 wheeler accident claim in Texas? In most cases you have two years from the crash to file a lawsuit in Texas, and wrongful death claims usually have two years from the date of death. Claims involving a government vehicle or agency can require written notice much sooner. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer checks every deadline that applies to your Houston crash during a free consultation at (832) 250-4888. Who can be held responsible for an 18 wheeler crash in Houston? Responsibility can extend beyond the driver to the motor carrier, the trailer owner, the shipper or loader, the maintenance provider and sometimes a parts manufacturer or freight broker. Container trucks around the Port of Houston often involve several of these parties at once. The firm investigates each one so every source of insurance coverage is found. What should I do right after an 18 wheeler accident? Call 911, get medical care and, if you can, photograph the truck, its USDOT number, the trailer and the scene. Get witness names and numbers, and don't give a recorded statement to the trucking company's insurer. Then call a Houston truck accident lawyer so evidence such as ELD logs and dash camera footage can be preserved quickly. How much does an 18 wheeler accident lawyer cost in Houston? Texas Truck Accident Lawyer works on a contingency fee, so there's nothing to pay upfront and no attorney's fee unless money is recovered for you. The fee percentage is explained clearly before you sign anything. The firm also covers the cost of experts and investigators while the case moves forward. What evidence matters most in an 18 wheeler case? Key evidence includes the truck's engine control module data, electronic logging device records, dash and cab camera footage, the driver qualification file and maintenance records. Some of this can be overwritten within days, which is why the firm sends preservation demands to the carrier immediately and aims to interview witnesses within 48 hours. Can I still recover if I was partly at fault for the truck crash? Yes, as long as you were not more than 50 percent responsible. Texas uses proportionate responsibility, so your recovery is reduced by your share of fault. Trucking insurers often try to shift blame onto the other driver, and the firm uses truck data, witness accounts and crash reconstruction to keep fault assigned fairly. How much insurance do trucking companies have to carry? Federal rules require most interstate carriers hauling general freight to carry at least $750,000 in liability coverage, with higher minimums for oil and certain hazardous materials. Many carriers also have excess or umbrella policies. The firm identifies every policy that applies, including coverage held by trailer owners and shippers. Why are 18 wheeler crashes so common in Houston? Houston combines the Port of Houston, the Ship Channel petrochemical plants, major freight corridors like I-10, I-45 and I-69 and huge distribution centers along Beltway 8 and the Grand Parkway. That volume of heavy truck traffic mixed with commuter traffic and frequent construction leads to crashes every day across Harris County. Do I have to talk to the trucking company's insurance adjuster? No. You aren't required to give a recorded statement to the other side's insurer, and doing so can hurt your claim later. Once you hire Texas Truck Accident Lawyer, all calls with the insurers go through the legal team so you can focus on recovering. Will my 18 wheeler accident case go to trial? Most truck cases settle, but the firm prepares every case as if it will go to trial because that preparation tends to produce better offers. Harris County truck cases may also be tried in phases under Texas rules adopted in 2021. You always make the final decision on whether to accept a settlement. Can I get help if I don't speak English well? Yes. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer serves Spanish-speaking clients across Houston and offers Spanish-language information so families understand each step. Consultations are free and confidential and can take place at the West Loop South office, by phone or by video.
