What To Do After an 18 Wheeler Accident in Houston If you've just been in a crash with an 18 wheeler in Houston, your first priority is safety. Call 911, get medical help and move to a safe spot if you can. Houston freeways are fast and unforgiving, and secondary crashes are a real danger at a truck crash scene. If you're able, take photos of the vehicles, the truck's license plates and USDOT number, the trailer number, the road and any injuries. Get names and phone numbers from witnesses. Write down the trucking company's name from the cab door. Don't argue about fault, and don't sign anything from the trucking company or its insurer. See a doctor within a day or two even if you feel fine. Then call a lawyer who handles trucking cases. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer can take over from there, sending preservation demands, gathering evidence and truck crash injury lawyer dealing with the insurers while you recover. Your phone can be one of your best tools at a crash scene, but be careful how you use it afterwards. Don't post about the crash, your injuries or your recovery on social media, because trucking insurers routinely check those accounts for anything they can use against you. A photo of you smiling at a family event can be twisted into a claim that you weren't really hurt. Keep your accounts private, avoid discussing the case online and let the firm advise you on anything you're unsure about while the claim is open.

Houston clients don't always need to come downtown. The team can meet by phone, by video or at the hospital, and it coordinates with your doctors wherever you're being treated, whether that's in the Texas Medical Center, Memorial Hermann in the suburbs or a clinic close to home. The goal is to take the legal work off your plate so you can put your energy into getting better. The trucking industry keeps Houston's economy moving, and most drivers are careful professionals. But when a driver or a carrier cuts corners, the results can be devastating for the families on the road around them. Holding companies accountable after a crash isn't about blaming an industry. It's about making sure the people who were hurt get what they need to recover. Your recovery comes first, and the legal work can be handled for you. Call (832) 250-4888 to schedule a free, no-obligation consultation with Texas Truck Accident Lawyer, based at 2100 W Loop S, Suite 818, Houston. There's no fee unless the firm recovers money for you, so there's nothing to lose by finding out where you stand.

FAQ About 18 Wheeler Accident Lawyer Houston How long do I have to file an 18 wheeler accident claim in Texas? In most cases you have two years from the crash to file a lawsuit in Texas, and wrongful death claims usually have two years from the date of death. Claims involving a government vehicle or agency can require written notice much sooner. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer checks every deadline that applies to your Houston crash during a free consultation at (832) 250-4888. Who can be held responsible for an 18 wheeler crash in Houston? Responsibility can extend beyond the driver to the motor carrier, the trailer owner, the shipper or loader, the maintenance provider and sometimes a parts manufacturer or freight broker. Container trucks around the Port of Houston often involve several of these parties at once. The firm investigates each one so every source of insurance coverage is found. What should I do right after an 18 wheeler accident? Call 911, get medical care and, if you can, photograph the truck, its USDOT number, the trailer and the scene. Get witness names and numbers, and don't give a recorded statement to the trucking company's insurer. Then call a Houston truck accident lawyer so evidence such as ELD logs and dash camera footage can be preserved quickly. How much does an 18 wheeler accident lawyer cost in Houston? Texas Truck Accident Lawyer works on a contingency fee, so there's nothing to pay upfront and no attorney's fee unless money is recovered for you. The fee percentage is explained clearly before you sign anything. The firm also covers the cost of experts and investigators while the case moves forward. What evidence matters most in an 18 wheeler case? Key evidence includes the truck's engine control module data, electronic logging device records, dash and cab camera footage, the driver qualification file and maintenance records. Some of this can be overwritten within days, which is why the firm sends preservation demands to the carrier immediately and aims to interview witnesses within 48 hours. Can I still recover if I was partly at fault for the truck crash? Yes, as long as you were not more than 50 percent responsible. Texas uses proportionate responsibility, so your recovery is reduced by your share of fault. Trucking insurers often try to shift blame onto the other driver, and the firm uses truck data, witness accounts and crash reconstruction to keep fault assigned fairly. How much insurance do trucking companies have to carry? Federal rules require most interstate carriers hauling general freight to carry at least $750,000 in liability coverage, with higher minimums for oil and certain hazardous materials. Many carriers also have excess or umbrella policies. The firm identifies every policy that applies, including coverage held by trailer owners and shippers. Why are 18 wheeler crashes so common in Houston? Houston combines the Port of Houston, the Ship Channel petrochemical plants, major freight corridors like I-10, I-45 and I-69 and huge distribution centers along Beltway 8 and the Grand Parkway. That volume of heavy truck traffic mixed with commuter traffic and frequent construction leads to crashes every day across Harris County. Do I have to talk to the trucking company's insurance adjuster? No. You aren't required to give a recorded statement to the other side's insurer, and doing so can hurt your claim later. Once you hire Texas Truck Accident Lawyer, all calls with the insurers go through the legal team so you can focus on recovering. Will my 18 wheeler accident case go to trial? Most truck cases settle, but the firm prepares every case as if it will go to trial because that preparation tends to produce better offers. Harris County truck cases may also be tried in phases under Texas rules adopted in 2021. You always make the final decision on whether to accept a settlement. Can I get help if I don't speak English well? Yes. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer serves Spanish-speaking clients across Houston and offers Spanish-language information so families understand each step. Consultations are free and confidential and can take place at the West Loop South office, by phone or by video.
